

Fantasia on Greensleeves

Ralph Vaughan Williams
Born: October 12, 1872
Died: August 26, 1958

Ralph Vaughan Williams

Ralph Vaughan Williams was one of England's leading 20th century composers. As a child, he knew he wanted to be a composer, and he followed his dream even though members of his family weren't very supportive. In the end, Vaughan Williams played a key role in reviving his country's music. He composed many, many works, including songs, operas, ballets, choral pieces, and nine symphonies.

Vaughan Williams was dedicated to collecting and studying English folksongs to preserve them for the future. A folksong is a traditional song that is passed on from person to person. They are rarely written down, so many are lost or changed from their original form. Vaughan Williams loved the songs of England, and worked hard to record them. He collected over 800 folksongs and they had such a big influence on him that many ended up in his own compositions.

The Fantasia on Greensleeves is one example. This music first appeared in Vaughn Williams' opera Sir John in Love, in which he used not only the familiar "Greensleeves" folk tune but also another song from his collection, "Lovely Joan." When Vaughan Williams arranged the Fantasia on Greensleeves for the concert hall, he brought the two songs together.

The word fantasy or fantasia has several meanings. You may know a fantasy as a daydream. In music, it is sometimes used to describe a work that does not follow any set form or pattern. Or, it can be used for compositions that are based on another musical work, like the Fantasia on Greensleeves.

Do you know the song Greensleeves? It actually dates back to the 1500s, and was even used by Shakespeare. Shortly after the American Civil War, William Chatterton Dix wrote the words for his Christmas carol, What Child is This? using the melody to Greensleeves. See if you can hear the familiar carol as you listen to the Fantasia on Greensleeves by Vaughan Williams.

Answer these questions as you listen Fantasia on Greensleeves

1. Circle the first two instruments you hear.

flute

french horn

cello

harp

2. The strings on the harp are played with _____
a. fingers b. a bow c. pedals
3. The melody is first played by which family of instruments?
a. woodwind b. brass c. string
4. What well-known Christmas carol gets its tune from Greensleeves?

Use this space to write your own story about what you would do on a snowy day.
Maybe this picture will help you “daydream.”

A fantasy, or fantasia, is an instrumental musical composition that is in a free form. While writing a fantasy, the composer lets his imagination prevail over the rules that govern musical forms. Often the fantasy is based on a well-known tune or on a folk song, as is the case with Ralph Vaughan Williams' Fantasia on Greensleeves.

Vaughan Williams' first name is pronounced “Rafe,” in the old English style. The composer was known to become quite angry when mistakenly called “Ralf.”

Match that Holiday

Many different cultures celebrate this time of year with special traditions and music. Match the name of each of these winter holiday songs with its heritage.

- Jingle Bells
- In the Window
- O Christmas Tree
- Lift Every Voice and Sing
- Feliz Navidad
- Go Tell it on the Mountain
- Here We Come A-Wassailing

- Kwanza Song
- Traditional Winter English Carol
- Spanish Carol
- Hanukkah
- German Carol
- African-American Spiritual

Here's your chance to create your own piece of art for “Fantasia on Greensleeves.” Draw or write your own story about this month's music selection. Use a blank 8 1/2” x 11” paper. If you want to share it, send yours to:

Classics for Kids
c/o WGUC
1223 Central Parkway
Cincinnati, OH 45214

Or E-mail us at mail@classicsforkids.com.

Bethany -- 5th Grade